Changing Time

diaper pail
diaper pail refills
disposable or cloth diapers
disposable baby wipes
diaper/wipe storage (our favorite Prince Lionhart diaper center)
rash ointment
powder (not needed for girls)
hand sanitizer
petroleum jelly and sterile gauze (for circumcision care)

Optional:

baby wipes warmer (not a fan, it dries out your wipes)

Clothing

coming home outfit
onesies sleeper gowns (one for each day of the week plus extra in case of accident. Gowns make it REALLY easy & quick to change in the middle of the night!)
sweaters (for winter baby) tops (snaps at neck or wide head openings, most babies hate to be changed)
bottoms
booties and socks
hats (beanies)
receiving blankets
swaddling blankets (we loved the Velcro ones from Summer) sleep sack (for when they out grow the Velcro ones) fleece suit for winter baby swimsuit for summer baby (ask doctor appropriate age for SPF) hair bands/bows for girls

Play Time

play mat
bouncer/walker
baby swing
development toys
stuffed animals/dolls (make sure eyes can't be taken off- choking hazard) children's musical CDs

books
teethers
pacifiers/binkies

Feeding Time

nursing pillow, extra cover breast pads, shields, and cream
nursing bra
nursing cover-up
electric breast pump
milk storage set
formula (if not breastfeeding)
formula travel dispenser bottles, nipples, and caps bottle liners, for disposable bottles bottle sterilizer
bottle and nipple brush
bottle drying rack
bibs
burp cloths (non-folded cloth diapers are great, plus you can use them to dust your house when your baby grows up)
high chair
infant spoons
infant bowls/plates
sippy cups
bumbo chair
food processor for homemade baby food containers to store food in fridge & freezer
